

Table of Contents

Preface	vii
Table of Cases	ix
Ch 1 Introduction	1
PART I
Ch 2 Legalism, Dixonian Legalism and the Gleeson Court.....	13
I Introduction	13
II Perceptions of the Gleeson Court.....	14
III Legalism.....	19
IV Dixonian legalism	24
V Legalism and the Gleeson Court	31
A Gleeson Court's faith in legalism	33
B Dixon and Gleeson approaches to realism.....	38
VI Conclusion	41
Ch 3 Realism and the Mason and Gleeson Eras	43
I Introduction	43
II Realist movement.....	44
III Contextual developments	50
A Murphy J's jurisprudence	51
B Social and political change in Australian society	53
C Legal change in overseas common law jurisdictions.....	54
D Intellectual climate outside of legal practice.....	55
E Perceptions of the judicial role	57
IV Methodological change of the Mason era	59
A Judicial choice	59
B Judicial policy.....	64
C Purposive interpretation.....	66
V Gleeson Court jurisprudence and Mason era realism.....	69
VI Conclusion	73
Ch 4 Natural Law, Justices Deane and Toohey and the Gleeson Court's Response	79
I Introduction	79
II Natural law constitutionalism and Locke	80
III Jurisprudence of Justices Deane and Toohey	84
A Interests of the individual	85
B Influence of natural law	87
C Broadening of legal debate	88
IV Gleeson Court's distancing	89
V Conclusion	91
Ch 5 Contemporary Pragmatic Thought.....	93
I Introduction	93
II Constitutional pragmatism in United States and Australia.....	93
III Central tenets of pragmatism.....	99

A	Contextualism	100
B	Instrumentalism	103
C	Perspectivism.....	106
IV	Proponents of legal pragmatism.....	107
A	Judge Posner.....	107
B	Sunstein	111
1	Theoretical arguments and complexity of human relations	112
2	Consensus.....	113
3	Precedent and incompletely theorised agreements	114
4	Theory, social reform and the judicial role	115
V	Criticisms	117
A	Pragmatism’s view of theory.....	117
B	Benefits of theoretical reasoning	118
C	Transparency and ideology	122
VI	Conclusion	124
Ch 6	Theory, Pragmatism and the Gleeson Court	127
I	Introduction.....	127
II	Pragmatism and the Gleeson Court.....	127
A	No over-arching theory.....	128
B	Diversity approach.....	129
C	Consequentialism.....	130
D	Low level theorising	132
E	Direct influence of pragmatism	133
III	Conclusion to Part I: Conceptual framework for Gleeson Court approach.....	134
PART II
Ch 7	Foundational Developments in Australia’s Separation of Judicial Power	139
I	Introduction.....	139
II	Importance of judicial separation.....	141
A	Separation doctrine	141
B	Judicial independence.....	144
C	Marbury v Madison	146
D	Uniquely Australian doctrine.....	147
III	Judicial power and the Australian Constitution	149
IV	Initial developments concerning first limb of Boilermakers’	151
A	New South Wales v The Commonwealth	152
B	Alexander’s Case	153
V	Initial developments concerning second limb of Boilermakers’ ...	156
A	In re Judiciary and Navigation Acts	156
1	Majority.....	158
2	Narrow implication of the dissent	159
B	In re Judiciary and legalism	160
VI	The two limbs of Boilermakers’	161
A	Dixonian legalism.....	163
B	Australian federalism.....	166

C	Judicial independence	167
D	Reinterpretation	169
E	Litigation outcomes	170
VII	Conclusion	171
Ch 8	Chapter III and the Mason Era	175
I	Introduction	175
II	Doubts about Boilermakers'	176
III	Judicial power, the individual and theory	179
IV	Chu Kheng Lim and theoretical reasoning	180
A	Facts	181
B	Decision	181
C	Chu Kheng Lim and the individual	184
V	Polyukovich v Commonwealth	187
VI	Conclusions concerning theory and judicial power	193
Ch 9	Chapter III, Constitutional Principle, Methodological Change and the Brennan Era	197
I	Introduction	197
II	Flexible practical arrangements and federal judicial power	198
III	Kable v Director of Public Prosecutions (NSW)	202
A	Integrity	202
B	Constitutional methodology	207
IV	Conclusion	208
Ch 10	Substantive and Methodological Change in Chapter III Jurisprudence and the Gleeson Era	211
I	Introduction	211
II	Practicality and constitutional principle in Re Wakim	211
A	Text and policy	212
B	Australian federalism	217
1	Co-operative federalism	217
2	Commonwealth consent	219
C	Emerging trends in Re Wakim	220
III	Al-Kateb : non-citizen liberties, legislative powers and integrity of the federal judiciary	222
A	Statutory construction	224
B	Constitutional interpretive principles	229
C	Constitutional movement	230
IV	Liberty and the federal judiciary	231
A	Baker v The Queen	232
B	Fardon v Attorney-General (Queensland)	234
V	Forge v ASIC	240
VI	Thomas v Mowbray	245
VII	Gypsy Jokers	249
VIII	Conclusion to Part II	253
Ch 11	Conclusion	259
	Bibliography	263
	Index	275